

What does each participant of summer Polish language and culture courses receive (as a minimum standard)

- regardless of the university organizing the course

Note: Detailed course programs are published on individual university websites and often cover more than the minimum standard shown below

Type of the course	Number of hours ¹ of basic classes of Polish language per week	Maximum number of participants of one class	Number of hours of additional activities (workshops, lectures, integrational events, cultural outings etc.) per week	Number of trips	Learning materials	Accommodation ²	Meals ³
NAWA summer onsite course in Polish language and culture for the students and academic teachers	15	In the case of levels A1 and A2 – 12 people; for the rest – 18 people	10	One per week	textbook or script	1)The rooms in which course participants will live must have at least a good standard in terms of aesthetics, cleanliness, room size and sanitary conditions. The number of rooms must ensure that no more than 3 people live in one room and no more than 6 people use the same bathroom. 2)The university is obliged to provide course participants with free access to Wi-Fi.	1. Meals must be of good quality, three meals a day, varied and with a choice (at least meat/meatless), balanced in terms of calorie content and the presence of various product groups (vegetables, products containing protein, starch, carbohydrates). 2. In relation to two meals a day (breakfast and/or dinner), the university may provide them by paying a lump sum of not less than PLN 22. A lump sum may also be paid for the main meal, but only during trips - in the amount of not less than PLN 55. 3. In the case of trips and cultural outings, the Beneficiary may replace the meal with the so-called a packed lunch, but this cannot include main meal.

¹ At this point and in all other places relating to the program, an hour is understood as the so-called class hour, i.e. 45 minutes.

² The universities are obliged to provide accommodation the night before the first day of the course.

³ The universities are obliged to provide all three meals also on the first and last day of the course.

Type of the course	Number of hours⁴ of basic classes of Polish language per week	Maximum number of participants of one class	Number of hours of additional activities (workshops, lectures, integrational events, cultural outings etc.) per week	Number of trips	Learning materials	Accommodation⁵	Meals⁶
NAWA summer online course for the students and academic teachers (less intensive)	10	In the case of levels A1 and A2 – 12 people; for the rest – 18 people	5	one trip or one cultural outing during the entire course	textbook or script	Not applicable	Not applicable
NAWA intensive summer online course for the students and academic teachers	15	See above	10	One trip per week	See above	See above	See above

⁴ At this point and in all other places relating to the program, an hour is understood as the so-called class hour, i.e. 45 minutes.

⁵ The universities are obliged to provide accommodation the night before the first day of the course.

⁶ The universities are obliged to provide all three meals also on the first and last day of the course.